SWG 200 CEM

SWG200-CEM Continuous Emission Monitoring System Stationary Flue Gas Emission Analyzer

Due to technical improvements or changes, picture of analyzer might be changed without notice !

The flue gas analysis system SWG200 is the rugged, high-tech industrial gas analyzer for relatively clean applications of:

- → clean flue gas / stack gas / exhaust gas emission sites
- natural gas, biogas & diesel gensets and CHP
- methane / natural gas boilers and steam power stations
- iron & steel furnaces, surface treatment, process heaters
- ➡ gas turbines, power plants and cement plant stacks
- ➡ please consult MRU for heavy applications with higher Sulphur and acid mist flue gas

Instrument main features are

- included dual heat exchanger Peltier gas cooler with two automatic condensate draining pumps
- → up to 8 gas infrared measurements with CO CC2 NO NO2 N2O SO2 CH4 C3H8
- ➡ using advanced DPTechnology for NDIR measurements with improved accuracy and without offset drifts
- O2 measurement using electrochemical sensor (ECS) or paramagnetic cell (PM)
- true NOx and SO2 measurements requires heated gas sampling probe and heated gas sampling line
- ➡ low NOx and SO₂ measurements requires also the option phosphoric acid dosage
- ➡ optional automatic calibration requires also the option phosphoric acid dosage
- ➡ up to maximum 2x sampling points switching, when using heated gas sampling lines
- when using non-heated gas sampling points switching, when using non-heated gas sampling line:
- ightharpoonup direct, simultaneous and continuous measurement, with pressure and temperature compensation
- automatic zeroing using clean ambient air and separate calibration inlet por, with optional auto-cal
- internal sample flow monitoring and alarm of probe's filter or analyzer internal filter clogging
- ➡ sampling from low suction -150mbar up to +50mbar pressure of flue gas
